Alfred Parry Trowbridge, Esq.
New Haven, Conn.

Dear Sir:

On a recent visit to our Museum, Mr. George S. Godard, of the Connecticut State Library, told me of a hoard of coins which had come into your possession under rather unusual circumstances.

We are very much interested in true hoards at this Museum because of the valuable data which can be drawn from them, and if you are able to give me an account of this Find and any data which may relate to it, I should greatly appreciate it. Mr. Godard told me, if I remember correctly, that you had presented specimens of the coins found in the collection in his charge, and stated that he thought they were Spanish pieces.

Very truly yours,

Secretary
